Connectors

WBT Nextgen™ Signature RCA Connectors

At the heart of WBT's Nextgen™ Signature connectors design is the central contact unit built from the plus and minus conductors. The positive contact features a split pin for maximum contact and retention, while the conductor material is made of pure silver and plated in platinum (Ag Signature), or pure copper and plated in nickel free gold (Cu Topline), to ensure unprecedented levels of conductivity.

Midline vs Topline: WBT connectors can be separated into two categories: Midline and Topline. Midline connectors are less expensive than Topline connectors yet, by appearance, share the same innovative, patented features. Topline connectors use a base metal that is a compressed alloy featuring an even higher content of copper than the Midline and they are machined to a higher resolution. They also feature an extensive five-layer Supra Gold plating process and the Midline undergoes a three-layer gold plating process.
